Cyngor Cymuned Trefriw Community Council

Personal and Prejudicial Interests.

A SUMMARY – YOU MUST REFER TO THE FULL CODE OF CONDUCT FOR THE DEFINITIVE LAW.

It is up to each councillor to decide for themselves whether they have a personal and prejudicial interest and whether to disclose it.

The councillor must first consider whether they have a personal interest and the Code says:

You must regard yourself as having a personal interest in any business of Trefriw Community Council. if it relates to, or is likely to affect —

- any employment or business carried on by you;
- any land in which you have a beneficial interest and which is in the area of Trefriw Community Council.
- Any body to which you have been elected, appointed or nominated by Trefriw Community Council.;
- any private club, society or association operating within Trefriw Community Council's area,
- any contract for goods, services made between Trefriw Community Council and you or a firm in which you are a partner or a company of which you are a paid director.

or if

- a member of the public might reasonably perceive a conflict between your role in taking a decision upon that business and your role in representing the interests of constituents in your ward.

or if a decision upon it might reasonably be regarded as affecting — your well-being or financial position, or that of a person with whom you live, or any person with whom you have a close personal association, more than other council tax payers, rate payers or inhabitants of the ward, as the case may be, affected by the decision.

Then the councillor must consider whether that personal interest is prejudicial and the Code says:

“Where you have a personal interest in any business of Trefriw Community Council, you also have a prejudicial interest in that business if the interest is one which a member of the public with knowledge of the relevant facts would reasonably regard as so significant that it is likely to prejudice your judgement of the public interest.”

If the councillor considers that they have a prejudicial interest: they must declare that interest and leave the room when that item is being discussed. However, if there is an item for Public Participation on the Agenda, they may give their views during the session as any member of the public may, but must then leave the room and take no further part in the discussion.
